

William J. Fehrman

Bill Fehrman, president, PacifiCorp Energy, has been named president, MidAmerican Energy Company. Fehrman joined MidAmerican Energy Holdings Company in 2006. Prior to that, he worked for Nebraska Public Power District. Fehrman held several leadership positions with Nebraska Public Power District, including nuclear project manager and vice president, fossil energy. In 2003, Fehrman was named president and CEO of Nebraska Public Power District.

“I am looking forward to working with MidAmerican Energy Company employees as we continue to focus on building a strong partnership with all parties to ensure our customers receive excellent service and reliable, cost-effective energy from a mix of generating resources, including renewable sources,” said Fehrman.